	I93-04-002	Commission Order Instituting Investigation on the Commission's own motion into open access and network architecture development of dominant carrier networks.

Summary: On November 22, 2002, Jenny Wong, Director – Regulatory Affairs, Verizon California Inc. (Verizon), met with Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, in San Francisco. Wong recommended that the Commission hold the draft decision until the Federal Communications Commission renders its new decision on whether linesharing is required. Wong explained that adoption of DD is too premature and will impose unnecessary administrative burdens while it is unclear whether linesharing would be required.

Summary: On November 25, 2002, Tim McCallion, President-Pacific Region, Verizon California Inc. (Verizon), met with Cmmr. Duque in San Francisco. Also present was Fassil Fenikile, advisor to Cmmr. Duque. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. McCallion expressed great concerns about the interim unbundled network element (UNE) rates recommended by the draft decision (DD), particularly the magnitude of the reductions on loops and switching costs. McCallion pointed out that the proposed reductions were severe and on a percentage basis were significantly larger than those adopted recently for Pacific Bell. McCallion explained that the proposed UNE rates, if adopted will significantly harm Verizon by creating artificially low UNE prices and sending inefficient pricing signals to competitors. McCallion also noted that the DD ignores a more recent UNE order issued by the Florida Commission. McCallion concluded that the Verizon proposal is the more reasonable proposal and should be adopted.

11/27/02 R01-10-024 Order Instituting Rulemaking to Establish Policies and Cost Recovery Mechanisms for Generation
Procurement and Renewable Resource Development.

Summary: On November 22, 2002, Bill Stock, Chief, Regulatory Relations, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), met with Kevin Coughlan, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, in San Francisco. Also present were Les Guliassi, Director, Regulatory Relations, Roy Kuga, Director, Gas and Electric Supply, and Bill Manheim, Attorney, for PG&E. Manheim stated that the plan approved by the Commission needs to include a trigger mechanism to ensure that cost recovery timely tracks procurement costs incurred. Kuga stated that approval of the plan constitutes up-front approval of the procurement costs and that PG&E's reasonableness exposure is limited to the utility's cost of administering the contracts.

12/2/02 A98-04-048 Pacific Bell, for authority to categorize residence inside wire repair as a category III service.

Summary: On November 27, Laura Tudisco, Staff Counsel for the Office of Ratepayer Advocates (ORA) had two telephone conversations with Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch. Tudisco referred to the comments of ORA on the draft decision denying the ORA's petition for modification of D99-06-053, in particular to the passage which stated that ORA did not file protests to Pacific Bell's advice letters to raise Residential WirePro rates, but that filing a protest would not have changed the fact that the erroneous designation of Pacific Bell's Residential WirePro Plan to Category III permits Pacific Bell to continually raise prices for this service.

12/2/02 A01-03-036 San Diego Gas & Electric Company, for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity for the Valley-Rainbow 500 KV Interconnect Project.

Summary: LATE FILED. AUGMENTATION REQUIRED. On November 20, 2002, John C. Condas, attorney for Centex Homes, Inc. (Centex), met with Cmmr. Peevey and David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, in two separate meetings. At the meeting with Cmmr. Peevey also present was Kevin Coughlan, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey. Darren W. Stroud, attorney for Centex, participated in both meetings. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Condas emphasized that the best approach would be for the Commission to adopt ALJ's proposed decision (PD) and if Otay Mesa fails to meet its contractually obligated milestones, other generation projects in the San Diego fail to materialize, and San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E) prevails on its appeal of the Pechangas' Great Oak Ranch property trust designation, SDG&E could expeditiously re-initiate its proceeding for the Valley-Rainbow Project (Project). Stroud stated that it was SDG&E's proposed transmission line route for the Project that was a major source of controversy in this proceeding because of its devastating effects to private property owners, including Centex. Stroud explained why Centex believed that the PD was the right decision. Condas explained how the proposed transmission line route could impact Centex. Condas pointed out that the pending appeal of the Bureau of Indian Affairs was another reason that the Commission should not find a need for the Project. Condas mentioned that pending federal legislation was also another reason for not finding a need now for the Project.

Summary: LATE FILED. AUGMENTATION REQUIRED. On November 19, 2002, John C. Condas, attorney for Centex Homes, Inc. (Centex), met with Cmmr. Wood and Robert Kinoshian, advisor to Pres. Lynch, in two separate meetings. At the meeting with Cmmr. Wood also present was Manuel Ramirez, advisor to Cmmr. Wood, and Aaron Johnson, advisor to Pres. Lynch. Darren W. Stroud, attorney for Centex, participated in both meetings. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Condas emphasized that the best approach would be for the Commission to adopt ALJ's proposed decision (PD) and if Otay Mesa fails to meet its contractually obligated milestones, other generation projects in the San Diego fail to materialize, and San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E) prevails on its appeal of the Pechangas' Great Oak Ranch property trust designation, SDG&E could expeditiously re-initiate its proceeding for the Valley-Rainbow Project (Project). Stroud stated that it was SDG&E's proposed transmission line route for the Project that was a major source of controversy in this proceeding because of its devastating effects to private property owners, including Centex. Stroud explained why Centex believed that the PD was the right decision. Condas explained how the proposed transmission line route could impact Centex. Condas pointed out that the pending appeal of the Bureau of Indian Affairs was another reason that the Commission should not find a need for the Project. Condas mentioned that pending federal legislation was also another reason for not finding a need now for the Project.

Summary: On November 30, 2002, Jim Avery, Senior Vice President, Transmission, San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E), met with Cmmr. Wood in San Francisco. Also present were Manuel Ramirez, advisor to Cmmr. Wood, Steve Nelson, Attorney, Sempra Energy, Dave Korinek, Transmission Planning Manager, and Steve Davis, Customer Service & External Relations Senior Vice President, and Billy Blattner, CPUC Relations Manager, for Sempra Energy Utilities. Written material (attached to the notice) was used. Davis described the broad support for Valley-Rainbow. Avery stated that SDG&E supports the alternate of Cmmr. Duque and opposes the proposed decision (PD) because the alternate would enable SDG&E to continue to study alternatives, routes and environmental impacts in phase 2. Avery stated that the PD would risk blackouts by essentially killing Valley Rainbow Interconnect (VRI) despite finding an electric reliability deficit by 2008-2009. Avery noted that SDG&E believes the electric reliability deficit actually begins in 2005. Avery agreed with the conclusion reached in the alternate that the proposed Otay Mesa power plant is far from certain. Avery explained that the five year planning horizon utilized in both the PD and alternate is risky and unreasonable. Avery stated that an unplanned customer load curtailment earlier this year during a SONGS switchyard outage would not have occurred had a third, geographically separate transmission line, such as VRI, been in service.
